Washington, Dec. 20.—George H. Taylor, of Philadelphia, who served as a national army man overseas, told a Senate committee today that he saw with his own eyes twelve American soldiers hanging around in Paris, France, from April to June, 1918, but was unable to say whether any of them had been convicted by court-martial.

One of the soldiers being described, was tried for assault on a French girl, by a French court-martial, at which one American officer was present. Taylor gave the name of the soldier and said he was a sergeant from Detroit, Mich., but the committee later decided to omit the name from its records.

Robert A. Harrison of Wilmington, N. C., testified that in 1917 he witnessed a lynching in France of a soldier who was a black man from the State of Texas, who was charged with a crime against a woman and child.

Called "MILITIA PARTY."
It was that the man had to be hanged to save some officers from being executed, Harrison declared. "Through a pair of field glasses I saw that he was being lynched, in which thirty men took part."

"It was a nice little party," he said. "I saw the body later with a rope around the neck."

The committee also questioned a soldier named Pry, who refused to carry his pack and who was reported to have been brought by order of the guard, was brought up.

Tried and Acquitted.
The man who killed the soldier was tried and acquitted, Colonel Bethel of the Judge Advocate-General's department testified.

"It is our contention," said Senator Watson, "that Fry was killed by a sergeant who drove a bayonet through his heart."

"Does the record show that?" asked Senator Overman.

"I think not," Colonel Bethel replied.

George H. Taylor, of Philadelphia, said he saw the entire command was ordered to the gallows.

The man was a negro. A chaplain went to the scaffold and prayed and then they hanged him, said Taylor.

"Was the man hanged tried by court-martial?" Chairman Bradstreet asked.

"I don't know," Taylor answered.

Twenty American soldiers were hanged at Camp Wilson, in Sar-tine, while he was in the command of the 23rd (Pennsylvania) Division looked on, George H. Taylor of Philadelphia testified.

"HARD-HOLED" SMITH.
Continuing Harrison told of another lynching after the armistice which he declared was directed by "Hard-holed" Smith.

"This writ of mine," said Harrison, lifting his left arm, "was broken with Smith and a couple of his sergeants."

The witness said he saw the men to the firing line without gas masks or guns as a form of punishment.

Harrison said the victim had been ordered by Smith to sweep the stock yard with a toothbrush, "and they had a little party when he refused."

"Were you court-martialed?" Bush to Overman, Democrat, North Carolina, asked.

"Yes. The colored cured me and I cured him back, and he had me sent to the firing line after that, said Harrison.

"He wouldn't give me a gas mask and my trouble today is due to gas, the medical record shows."

DOES NOT REGARD TREATY AS COVERING PRINCIPAL ISLANDS OF JAPANESE EMPIRE

Washington, Dec. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Harding, who was today in the White House, does not regard the four-power Pacific treaty as covering the principal islands of the Japanese empire.

The view, which is contrary to what was repeatedly by official spokesmen of the American delegation, was described at the White House by the president's personal opinion, not based on consultation with the State department.

Mr. Harding was said to believe that the treaty no more applies to the islands of the Japanese empire than it does to the mainland of the island of Japan.

In view of this, it was said, the agreement only covers islands possessions in the Pacific, while the main Japanese empire covers the position of a party to the treaty rather than a promise.

FOUR SAW BARS, ESCAPE FROM MAINE JAIL

Gone for Hours Before Absence From Cells at Thomaston Is Discovered

Thomaston, Me., Dec. 20.—Four prisoners in the Thomaston Jail awaiting transportation to the State prison escaped the bars from a window in the corridor during the night and escaped at least eight hours before their absence was discovered.

The band was led by Charles Grant, who broke jail in July, 1920, was re-arrested under another name and was identified a few months ago. When the keeper made his rounds just before midnight the men were in their cells. At 1 a. m. their cells were empty. Tin and wooden keys had been fashioned by the four men with which to open the locks on the doors of their cells. Planning into the corridor of the jail, the men saved the bars from a window and dropped through it to liberty. Jail officials believe the bars had been sawed partly through some time previously.

The escaped prisoners included Grant, one George Taylor, James Sauter and Patrick MacIntosh. These three men were under sentence of two to four years for breaking and entering. Grant was facing a sentence of ten to ten years for burglary.

An alarm for the capture of the men was sent out all through the surrounding territory. It is believed the men, armed and headed for New Brunswick.

Grant also is known as Joseph Henry. His first escape from Thomaston Jail was discovered recently. A touring car had been driven into the prison yard for repairs. Henry concealed himself under some robes in the baggage rack. When the car was driven toward the prison gate a guard saw Henry and fired a rifle. The bullets were some distance away before they discovered they were aiding a prisoner to escape. Then, when the car stopped, Henry fled to the woods.

Henry was arrested in Houston in November and finally was identified as Grant. He is wanted in various parts of Penobscot, Bangor and Androscoggin counties for breaking and entering.

TWO daytime frocks from Paris that restrict themselves to black, white and gray, present contrasts quite as interesting as though much color were introduced. The one-piece frock at the left is of white broadcloth with a border and applied design of black broadcloth. The bodice, which blouse over a plie of the broadcloth buckled in steel, reflects its simplicity by the use of a decorative panel, and wide sleeves that proceed from an arched waist deep. The straight skirt is trimmed at one side from waist to hem with a strip of the black broadcloth.

BLACK velvet is a slender little one-piece frock has silver cloth threaded through its waistline, making it pointed in the manner of a basque at the front and a large flower of the black velvet and gray brushed wool is found over on hip. There is a high chiffon collar that becomes fluffy the wearer's chin and a band of chiffon trims the skirt edge, which is rounded up for some distance at one side.

ARMENIANS BEG FOR CHANCE TO STAY HERE

Ordered Reported, They Are Afraid to Return to Turkey Owing to Outrages

Last minute appeals were made today upon Washington officials to stay the deportation of about two scores of Armenians, detained at the East Boston detention station of the immigration service, and who have been ordered deported on the Fabre liner Britannia, which sails from Providence tomorrow.

Cable reports from Constantinople telling of outrages committed by Turks on Armenian men and girls deported from the United States and the subsequent slaughter have alarmed not only the relatives and friends of those who are about to be sent back to Turkey, but are agitating all the Armenians in the community.

At the East Boston station today officials declared that they have no authority to stay the deportation of the immigrants.

They have been ordered deported by Secretary Davis of the Department of Labor, in conformity with the law governing the admission of immigrants.

Unless President Harding interposes, they say, there is no way to save them from being returned to Turkey, or at least, to the port of their embarkation.

One of the deported Armenians, named Patre, lives in Providence and came on the White Star liner, according to Boston Consul General and Consul. The White Star line have received the Boston-Mediterranean service temporarily, arrangements have been made to send back those who came on the White Star ship to the British.

Unless telegraphic orders to the contrary arrive today Acting Consul Wilson will send the immigrants to a Providence tourist under guard of inspectors and place them in the Britannia.

SCIENTIST SAYS BRIGHT RED LIGHT PREVENTS DYSPEPSIA

POVERTY'S FRIEND! Amelia Barnham, popular dancing teacher, who has given largely of her time to swell the American's Christmas Basket Fund. She's done her bit! Have you? Everything helps.

GOOD MORNING! Have you won a pretty Material prize yet? Better try today. Miss Ina A. Eisman, 131 Franklin St., Malden, is awarded $5 for this photo. Address Pictorial Editor, Boston American. Send negatives with snapshots.

READY for a dash across the Siberian plains—or to Chelsea! If you would be fashionable, girl motorists, here's the latest costume. Grey coach coat and coat and high Russian boots complete the outfit. (U. & U.)

PHILLIP KERR, chief secretary to Lloyd George, has resigned. Said to have opposed Premier's plan for a 80 per cent. duty on German goods. (Int.)

BET Casady is Biggest Seller! A miniature store has been set up in a Chicago school to teach the youngsters mathematics. Taught to buy and sell and figure amounts. (U. & U.)

C. C. KWONG of China is believed to be first Chinese awarded varsity "C" in history of Cornell College. Member of varsity soccer team. (E.)

WILLIAM H. PECK, N. Y. scientist, says green street lights would clear thoroughfares of burglars. Red lights, he declares, is an aid to dyspepsia. (Int.)

BUNNY MARTIN of Chicago had something up her sleeve, so to speak, and gosh, it turned out to be a monkey skin. "Jiggs," the marionette, is 4 in. long and makes his home in the sleeve of her coat. (Int.)

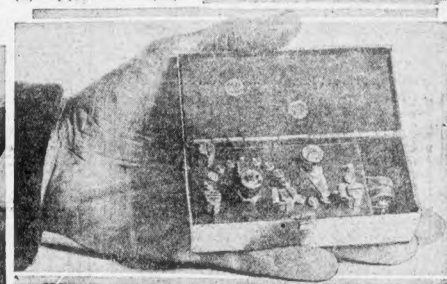

PAUL PARKS, 29, of Nelsonville, O., after years of struggle, has been picked from 50 baritone to sing at David Blapham memorial. Wins $200. Was wounded in action during war. (W.W.)

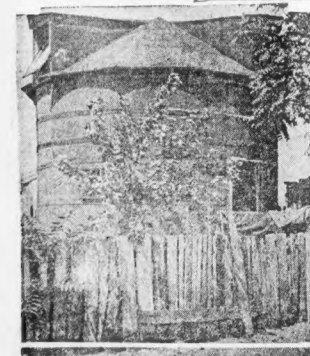

THIS new invention enables you to talk and gesticulate, at the same time while telephoning. An electric bulb is put on receiver when not in use. (E.)

CALIFORNIA IN DECEMBER! Fay Parrish of Los Angeles rides to the beach daily in this plane, so it is said. But you and I know that any woman so graceful and charming would saunter wavy, wavy slowly. (K.)

THE WEE SMA' VOICE! One of the smallest radio receiving outfits ever made, costing only 75 cents to assemble. Made by Charles H. Shipman of Seattle, Wash. It is just 4 1/2 in. long, 2 in. wide and 1 1/2 in. high. Can receive for a considerable distance. (Int.)

THE HOUSE IS HIGH But Not So the Rent! The landlord became such a Simon Legree to a large Philadelphia family that they forsok city dwellings for this site. Not every comfort and convenience of a flat. There's room enough for a regiment of soldiers. (U.)

SPEAKING OF Rents! This Hindoo native, stepped in the railroad station at Burma, India, has no use for landlords. His household furnishings are carried on a straw mat which serves as roof for his outdoor dwelling. (Int.)

WHAT'S In a Name. Joseph F. Mikaloe, a Croatian who formerly lived in U. S., and his book of well known signatures, collected in his 20 years' travel. Those of Lloyd George and Queen Mary are shown. (Int.)

FOILED! Women for ages have been piercing men's hearts, so it is not surprising to learn that a girl—a very pretty girl, too—is one of the cleverest fencers in the West. Miss Janet Ford, a member of an exclusive Los Angeles Club, has dilled with the fells since a child and this accounts, together with the admirable teaching of Arthur Saint Remé, maître d'armes, for her remarkable skill. She is shown here in a practice bout, with M. Saint Remé in the background. (K.)

ADAMS DISCUSSES CUT IN MILK COST

President Charles F. Adams of the John T. Connor Company, discussing today that concern's price of twelve cents a quart on "dash and carry" milk, said:

"The cooperative association at Pelletts Falls, Vt., which is furnishing the Connor company with its milk, is composed almost entirely of members of the New England Milk Producers' Association and is paying dues to that organization. Some of the farmers are officers of the association in that section."

"The milk they are furnishing us is better than more than the average price being paid at the present time to other farmers in other parts of the State, so it is apparent that something is or has been wrong with the prices of distribution, not of production, which is responsible for high prices."

"It is up to the distributors to correct our faulty or expensive methods that have kept this milk distribution and have kept the average fairly between the producer and the consumer."

SUGGEST PLANS FOR HARVARD MEMORIAL

The committee of the Harvard Corporation and the board of overseers has approved to graduate for further negotiations for a memorial to Harvard men in the World War. A new university chapel has been suggested by the overseers' committee. An apse chapel and Phillips Brooks House Association chapel built about seventy years ago, at a time when nearly all American architecture lacked charm and distinction, cannot now be regarded as really worthy of the chapel of a large university. The chapel committee has an auditorium to seat three times as many as the 1,200 capacity of North Hall Theatre has been suggested. Some graduates would consider the auditorium with a building for indoor athletic competition. A dormitory quadrangle between the freshmen hall and Mt. Auburn street, is another suggestion.
